

The New Angle Prize for Literature - 2019

Rules

Inaugurated in 2009, The New Angle Prize is a biennial award for a recently published book of literary merit, associated with or influenced by East Anglia. In this context East Anglia is defined as a region encompassing North Essex, Suffolk, Norfolk, Cambridgeshire and the Fens.

The Prize is open to recently published work, in print, which may be fiction, non-fiction or poetry. Anthologies must be predominantly new rather than previously published writing.

Entries for the 2019 award will have been published between 1st January 2017 and 31st December 2018.

Entries can be submitted by authors, agents or publishers and the entry form must be accompanied by 6 copies of each title.

Entries should be submitted as soon as possible to the address on the form and no later than Thursday 3rd January 2019.

Entries written by trustees and employees of the Ipswich Institute, by directors and employees of sponsors and by judges for the current New Angle award will not be accepted.

Authors of shortlisted works will be asked to appear, reading and in conversation, at the Shortlist Showcase, a public event to be held at the Ipswich Institute on Wednesday 1st May 2019.

The Awards Dinner will be held in Suffolk on Wednesday 3rd July 2019 at which a cash prize of £2,000 will be awarded to the winner and £500 to the runner-up. The result of a Readers' Choice competition organised with the help of Suffolk Libraries will also be announced.

The trustees of the Ipswich Institute are most grateful for the generosity of sponsors Gotelee Solicitors, Scrutton Bland Group and others who have made this award possible, and for the support of Suffolk Book League and the University of Suffolk.
